ENGLAND FACING
A SERIOUS CRISISNation Regards Coming Coal

Workers May Join Great
StrikeLloyd George Says Miners
Endeavoring to Use Force

(By Associated Press)

London, October 16.—Preparations for the great industrial struggle precipitated by the decision of the British miners to cease work went grimly forward today. The machinery established by the Government to cope with the crisis was working smoothly at full speed. The miners for their part were equally active. Some of them already had ceased work.

Meanwhile, the public was waiting anxiously, even fearfully, for the real beginning of the battle, whose outcome none could foresee, since the action of the miners hits the vitals of the country.

The issue of gravest importance, which was hanging in the balance, was whether the railroad men and the transport workers would give their active support to the miners. This morning, the executive committee of the National Union of Railwaymen decided to call a special conference of delegates for Wednesday, when the fateful decision will be taken as to whether the railwaymen shall support the miners through a sympathetic strike.

Some of the iron and steel works already have succumbed to the coal strike threat with its implication of a prospective coal shortage. With few exceptions, all the works on the Tynesides were closed today, and about 20,000 men have been thrown out of employment. It is stated all the works in this district will be idle after today.

Premier Lloyd George today addressed a message to the nation with regard to the strike. He said the Government had done everything possible to avert the calamity, but that the miners, rejecting all offers, now were trying to gain their ends by force.

The nation, he declared, would resist "such an attack with all its strength, and there can be no doubt as to this issue."

Diplomats Starts ProtestOrders Out For All Federal Agents to Not Molest Baggage

(By Associated Press)

Washington, October 16.—Action of government agents in seizing liquor consigned to the diplomatic corps in Washington has led to some complications. It was learned today at the State Department.

While no formal protest has been lodged with the government the situation has reached a point where the Department felt called upon today to issue a public statement.

The hope is expressed in this statement that no agent of the government will interfere with the baggage or other personal possessions of any member of the diplomatic corps or his family.

Orders to customs officials to search the baggage of diplomats were issued recently by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Shouse, whose resignation was announced yesterday, effective November 15th.

TALKS TO HOOSIERS

(By Associated Press)

Indianapolis, October 15.—Asserting that America must do everything it can to prevent future wars, Senator Harding renewed here tonight his declaration of six weeks ago that in organizing the sentiment of the world for peace, he favors taking all that is good in the Versailles league of nations.

Quoting from his league speech of August 28, the Republican nominee pointed out that he declared on that occasion that the league might be "amended or revised," if its preservation were found necessary to the peace of Europe.

The company explained the discontinuance of bonus payments as due to the poor market conditions.

(By Associated Press)

Terre Haute, Ind., October 16.—"Favoritism" in the distribution of coal cars due to failure to enforce provisions of the Cummins-Each law was blamed by Senator Harding in a speech here today for much of the present confusion in the coal situation and for the inability of coal miners in some localities to obtain lasting employment.

Nominee.

(By Associated Press)

Elyria, O., October 16.—Governor Cox today hailed as "another somersault" the league of nations speech of Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, yesterday at Indianapolis.

"The senatorial candidate has made 12 definite distinct flops on the league since last August, in three months," said the Democratic candidate in addressing audiences at Fremont and here on his way to Cleveland.

"How many," Governor Cox continued, "could he be expected to take between November 2 and March 4?" "The Senator's Indianapolis speech means that Harding and his advisers have been caught in 'no-man's land' and they see they can't get back by November 2. This ought to be a

Women's Congress to Formulate Plans for PresentationSays Much to be Done For Human Welfare and Social Progress.

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., October 16.—A national woman's congress, to frame a program of social legislation and administration for presentation to the President and Congress, was advocated here today by Governor Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, in addressing an audience of women.

Urging larger participation of women in national affairs, and citing social legislation during his gubernatorial administration, the Governor told his women auditors at a non-partisan meeting at a local hotel that there was "much to be done for human welfare and social progress."

He also championed the League of Nations as a measure to protect women and children from the horrors of war.

From my experience in Ohio," said the Governor, "you may know what to expect when I am elected president. We must stamp out disease, oppression and ignorance and eliminate neglect."

"With women only at the threshold of political work in America, I cannot call upon you for congressional action, but we can work in common purpose with common counsel, and it would seem to me perfectly proper and fitting that a national meeting be called of representatives of every woman's organization in America to formulate a program for Congress and the executive for social legislation and administration."

She is now appointing a committee which will include one member from every state.

(By Associated Press)

London, October 16.—Terrance MacSwiney, the hunger striking Lord Mayor of Cork, was reported by the British Prison doctor this morning as having passed a fairly good night. This was the sixty-fifth day of the Lord Mayor's strike.

A person closely connected with Lord Mayor MacSwiney stated the MacSwiney family had received word through a churchman who recently had a forty minute audience with Pope Benedict twenty minutes of which were devoted to a discussion of the hunger strikers, that the pontiff does not regard the Irish hunger strikers as committing suicide, taking the attitude that the motive alone determines whether such self-destruction is justifiable.

NEVER RETURNED WITH SNUG SUM GIVEN FOR BOOZE

For some time rumors have been current of a little deal in "high finance" in this city that resulted in a net one fellow losing several hundred dollars, according to the story. It seems that a man whose liking for liquor has continued into the Sahara period, was given assurance that he could obtain a liberal supply and that this in turn could be disposed of to good advantage with a profit for both parties concerned in the action—the man furnishing the money and the go-between who would obtain the liquor and dispose of it.

According to the story the man who was framing the deal induced a local man to give up several hundred dollars in cash to be invested in liquor.

It was the old, old story of "he never came back" and the man who is alleged to have furnished the money is still watching and waiting, although many weeks have taken place since the man who got the money hid himself for parts unknown.

RULE GOVERNING BURNING LEAVES

The authorities caution property owners against burning leaves on streets paved with asphalt, brick or concrete.

WHEAT STOCK IN U. S. TOTALLED 608,000,000 BUSHELS OCTOBER 1

Stocks of wheat in the United States on October 1 totaled 608,000,000 bushels, according to estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture made public here today. This amount represents 477,000,000 bushels held by farmers, 102,000,000 bushels held at country mills and elevators, and 29,000,000 bushels held at points of accumulation on that date.

During the first quarter of the present season—from July 1 to October 1—the farmers marketed 321,000,000 bushels as compared with 450,000,000 bushels marketed in the corresponding period of 1919—a reduction of nearly 29 per cent. The crop this year, plus the carry-over from 1919, is estimated at 798,000,000 bushels, or about 17 per cent less than last year.

These figures indicate that farm marketing during the first quarter have been relatively as well as absolutely, smaller than in any similar period last year. Ohio has 18,000,000 bushels on the farm as compared with 24,500,000 last year.

Investigation of gambling in baseball, being conducted by the Cook county grand jury at Chicago, by officials of the Chicago Cubs and by President Ban Johnson of the American league, has shown that a condition exists that will kill the game unless wiped out immediately. The charges already made indicate that there was something wrong with the world's series last year and that there are a few men in the big leagues today who have listened to the lure of money offered by the big gambling cliques. Rube Benton, Giant hurler, has testified before the Cook county grand jury that Buck Herzog and Hal Chase approached him last fall with an offer of "easy money" if he would lose the last Giant-Cub game. Heinie Zimmerman ceded Benton later when Benton won his game

Balanced Rations For Your Motor

The meaning of a balanced ration for live stock is well known; its value readily apparent. Just so with your motor.

The balanced ration for your motor is good, clean, straight-run Liberty Gasoline. You may ask why. We'll tell you—

It's balanced because it contains all the elements of energy coupled with the qualities that make the power easy of assimilation by the motor's system—it vaporizes quickly and at low temperatures; it explodes with the minimum of spark and it burns cleanly without excessive deposits of mineral substances.

Liberty Gasoline is strictly straight run, high testing and exceedingly satisfactory. You should try it.

BEETLES DAMAGING OHIO GRAIN IN BINS

Small beetles which work in grain are doing considerable damage in Ohio, according to reports which have been received at the College of Agriculture. The beetles can be killed by fumigating with carbon bisulfide, using eight pounds of the carbon bisulfide to each thousand cubic feet space, says Prof. T. H. Parks, extension entomologist of the Ohio State University. It is necessary that the bins are first sealed as tight as possible, he says. Then expose the carbon bisulfide in shallow pans on top of the grain. The gas is heavier than air and sinks through the grain, killing the insects. If the grain is more than 2½ feet deep in the bin; pour some of the liquid down short pieces of gas pipe, stoppered at the lower end and thrusts into the grain to a depth of 2 or 3 feet. Push the stopper out with a wire and pour some of the liquid down the pipe. Repeat at intervals over the grain. To fumigate the top surface expose the carbon bisulfide in shallow pans as previously mentioned. Keep the bin closed tight for 36 hours. This treatment will not injure germination if not closed over 40 hours. The fumigation should be done when the temperature is 70 degrees or above. Fires should be kept away.

We Are Again Informed

Senator William M. Calder, chairman of the Senate housing committee declared in New York on Friday, that coal profiteering, participated in by operators and railroads had cost the people three hundred and fifty million dollars last year.

We presume that Senator Calder meant that the people were compelled to pay that staggering sum in excess of a reasonable or fair price for the coal they burned; that that enormous sum was taken by market manipulators who contributed nothing toward the production of coal and who hindered seriously the supply reaching the people instead of aiding in production and transportation.

We are inclined to think Senator Calder's estimate, big as it is, of actual direct cost too low.

If Senator Calder and his fellow members on the Senate committee had roused themselves before the crime was committed and prevented it they might have had some interesting announcement to make. Instead they, either through incompetence or through the desire to accumulate campaign material, sat idly by and witnessed the plundering of the people and now announce after its consummation what we know from the suffering we have undergone.

The chief aim of so many officials seems to be to sit idly by while these robber raids go on and then write a history of it and place the responsibility somewhere else.

Where was Senator Calder and where were his senator associates, last year, when the plundering was going on?

"Thirty" For George Carey

Never did the angels open the portals to eternity more mercifully than on Friday, when George Carey was summoned from a bed of suffering and permitted to enter that land from which no traveler returns.

Until a little over two years ago when stricken with an incurable malady, George Carey had been, for many years, one of the men who have builded The Herald.

He was one of the old-time printers. A straight-matter man—they called him—and an expert with his fingers in the old days of hand composition. No machinery could put him out. He learned his trade, and learned it well, under adverse circumstances and he followed it in the days when the reward was not so generous as it is now days and as a consequence he died poor so far as the possession of this world's goods are concerned. He was a master, though, in his time, and was always a genial and conscientious companion in the work room.

Like all of us, he was human, but for all his little human frailties he has made expiation in this world. He made the most of life and had no complaints, but somehow we can't help feeling that fate didn't give George Carey a square deal.

Now the Great Foreman of the universe has summoned George to the front office, his accounts have been footed up, his proof has all been read and we, who labored with him, feel confident that his final balance will bring reward.

Somehow when "thirty" had been called for George Carey we felt like we wanted to go with him to be sure his record was understood and that he would get all that eternity owes him.

Our faith gives us confidence, however, that all is well and that, over yonder somewhere, our old friend waits, in peace and happiness, speaking a good word for us at the throne of mercy.

Not At This Time

Two Governors, Coolidge of Massachusetts and Cornwall of West Virginia, have already declined the request of President Lowell of Harvard to declare Sunday, October 24 League of Nations Day—a day upon which the people are requested to read and contemplate seriously the proposal.

No matter how we may feel regarding the league of nations proposal we must acknowledge the correctness of the action of both executives in refusing to accede to the request.

The league of nations proposal now is nothing more nor less than a political issue and the people are in no frame of mind to consider it properly. It matters not what men or what political party are more responsible, the fact is that the league of nations proposal has been made a political means to an end.

Later on, after the election, after we have forgotten the bruises of political assaults, after our partisan pride has had time to soften, we may take up America's cause and consider the proposal, as we should, free from partisan feeling.

Until after the election the league proposal must remain "in politics."

What though the summer's faded,

Any time is song-time if the soul be

The rivers ripple music where water lilies throng:

Any time for singin' if the soul be in the song!

Any time for singin'—the thunder of the strife—

On the love-dreams of the valleys, if the song's the breath of life!

The angels lean an' listen from the window of the blue.

An' they'll shout in happy chorus, an'
they'll kiss their hands to you—

DETERMINATION TO OUST THE DEMOCRATS IS FIXED IN WEST

This Sentiment Seems to Push All Other Issues Aside

Elements Supporting Cox Pull Against Each Other—The Situation in Review.

By Mark Sullivan.
(Copyright 1920)

Chicago, October 16.—I had intended to treat each of the Western states that were either large or doubtful in individual articles. But I have come to the feeling that the public interest does not justify so extended a use of space.

There is no real news in this western situation; it crystallized weeks ago, and it still remains in the shape in which it originally crystallized. Such change as there is runs in the direction of confirming the early trend. Indeed, the tendency, so far as there is any change just now, is toward increased determination to get the Democrats out of power.

Cox's fortunes in the west are in extremely poor shape. Such elements as support him are too diverse to be of real help. They antagonize each other, pull against each other, and neutralize each other. Instead of helping Cox they whipsaw him. The spots where there is a strong League sentiment which might have helped Cox happen to be the same spots which are fundamentally Republican states. On the other hand, the states which are normally Democratic and might have been expected to give their electoral votes to Cox happen also to be states which have a considerable Irish vote, or some other sort of vote that is hostile to the League.

Those women who might have supported Cox on the League are drawn away by their suspicion that Democratic victory, especially in the lower house of congress, might tend to endanger prohibition. The labor vote that might have supported Cox is diminished by the fact that many who are laborers are also, for racial reasons or otherwise, opposed to the League of Nations.

Hoover Touched Weak Spot

The largest single element in the western situation is the thing that Hoover emphasized the other night: A deeply held conviction that the Democratic party has not managed the country well, and a determination—to put it in words that Hoover might hesitate to use—a determination to fire the hired man, a mood of exasperation that has reached the point where it isn't willing even to talk about or listen to the possible shortcomings of the new man, but is determined to get the present one off the premises, bag and baggage, on the earliest possible date. As one politician said, "It is just plain raw anti-Wilsonism."

Of course, it would be inaccurate and grossly unjust to say this mood is universal among the voters. But it is universal geographically. And such a mood, when it is widely distributed geographically, does not need to effect more than ten or at most twenty per cent of the voters to change the pro-Wilson majorities of 1916 to anti-Wilson majorities in 1920.

Considered state by state, this is the situation in the trans-Mississippi states.

In the Northwestern States

Minnesota will go for Harding by upward of one hundred thousand. When Harding visited Minnesota he was accorded a reception which for sincerity and enthusiasm equalled any reception ever given by Minnesota to any candidate, barring only Theodore Roosevelt. The Democrats have really thrown up their hands in Minnesota; not officially, of course, but practically. All the Democrats really hope in Minnesota is to hold their party organization together by soft peddling on Cox and concentrating their activities on one of the minor candidates for a state office.

North Dakota will go for Harding. The Non-Partisan League on the presidential issue is officially more or less neutral, but the members of the League will vote largely for Harding. The Democratic national organization has had emissaries up here trying to treat with the Non-Partisan League; but the truth is, Townley, who is the head of the Non-Partisan League would hardly dare oppose the National Republican ticket if he wanted to. Such an action would be running too strongly counter to the sentiments of the bulk of the individual members of the league. The Non-Partisan League candidate for United States senator, Dr. E. F. Ladd, will be elected.

DAREDEVIL DICK—HYDROPLANING ON THE OLD DUCK POND

South Dakota will go for Harding by a majority exceeding 25,000. Here, as nearly everywhere, the Republican candidate for Senator is not so sure of success as Harding is. Nevertheless the best judgment is that the Republican senatorial candidate, Gov. Norbeck will be elected.

Montana May Be Close

Montana is one state that is normally Democratic. Probably an allocation of these western states that would be slightly generous to Cox would give Montana to him; but the Non-Partisan League has captured the Democratic organization in Montana, and the resulting chaos in the party undoubtedly endangers Democratic success.

One of the two Democratic senators from Montana, Myers, has come out publicly in opposition to the local Democratic ticket, because of the capture of the organization by the radicals. This has encouraged other conservative Democrats to do the same. Moreover, so far as the presidential issue is concerned, probably a majority of the Non-Partisan League favors Harding. When Cox was in the state he tried hard to get the old Roosevelt supporters, but he will not get them. The Republican candidate for Governor is ex-Senator Joseph M. Dixon. Everybody in Montana knows that Dixon was very close to Roosevelt, and was national chairman of the old Progressive party.

Finally, a large part of the normal Democratic vote in Montana is Irish, and the Irish are against Wilson and the League. Of course it is also true that many of these same Irish leaders are local office holders, or are otherwise strongly identified with the local Democratic organization. Nevertheless, the bulk of them will probably be against Cox.

The net about Montana is that if it goes Democratic at all, it will only be by a very small majority. The be by a very small majority. The real interest in Montana politics—and this is true of most of the northwestern states—is not in the national situation but in the local triumphs of the Non-Partisan League.

Idaho will surely go for Harding. Here again the Republican candidate for United States senator will run markedly behind Harding. Two weeks ago I would have said that the Democrats would re-elect their senator from Idaho, but the Republican trend is so strong that today it appears probable that the Republican candidate for senator will be carried in on the wave.

Washington will go heavily for Harding. Here also the Republican candidate for senator will run behind. The Republican Senator Jones, who is himself a candidate for re-election, has much opposition from business-men in Seattle who are normally Republican, because of some of Senator Jones' official acts in regard to shipping. But the best judgment is that while Jones will run behind Harding, he too will win.

Oregon Likes Chamberlain

Oregon, apparently, is about to do a curious thing, which confirms the reputation of Oregon as one of the most intelligent electorates in America. Oregon will go for Harding by a very large majority—probably as large a majority as Roosevelt got in 1904. Big in the senatorial election in Oregon Senator Chamberlain, who has held a seat for twelve years, is a candidate for re-election. Chamberlain is a good senator, and Oregon likes him. Therefore, although Oregon will give one of the largest Republican majorities in the country in proportion to its population, it will probably also re-elect the Democratic Senator, Chamberlain. At least this is the present tendency. Three or four weeks ago everybody took it for granted that Senator Chamberlain would win; but just now the Republican trend is so strong that if it continues to roll until Election day, Chamberlain may be in danger.

California will go Republican. Hopeful Democrats place California in their column, and observers who have a friendly feeling for the under dog tend to place California in the doubtful column; but the truth is that the wiser Democratic leaders in California do not fool themselves.

The total registration in California will be about 1,300,000, of which about 800,000 will be Republican, 300,000 Democratic, and 150,000 declining to state their party affiliations. Of course, the mere preponderance of registration does not make the election a foregone conclusion; but it is significant that the percentage of Republican registration this year has risen from 54 per cent of the total up to 62 per cent of the total, while the Democratic registration has fallen in about the same proportion.

As to the Senatorship, California is the same old story, only more so. The Republican candidate for Senator Shortridge, will run far behind his ticket. The sitting Democratic senator, Phelan, is universally looked upon by California, as a creditable figure. He has a strong hold on the affection of the state. He has made a fine public record in many offices, and has always shown the kind of keen and intelligent interest in public affairs that California appreciates.

Phelan will probably run 75,000 ahead of Cox, which is the same thing as saying that if Harding's majority in California is less than 75,000, Phelan will win.

States of the Southwest

Of those three southwest states which have three electoral votes each

New Mexico is probably lost to the Republican this year. Arizona is very even, and Nevada, although normally a Democratic State, is from the Democratic point of view in danger this year. Nevada's population is small at best, and the recent census showed that during the last ten years it has lost four or five thousand of its eighty thousand people.

In Nevada's population there is a rather large number of Irish, who are opposed to the League of Nations. In Nevada no Democrat candidate, aside from President Wilson, was ever given more than 2,500 majority. This year the Republicans may carry Nevada for Harding, but the Democrats will probably re-elect their Senator Henderson.

Utah is full of complexities, including ecclesiastical ones, which make the situation in that state not easy to understand and still less easy to explain to the public outside the state.

The net of the Utah situation is that Cox may carry the state, but the Republican Senator, Smoot, will probably be re-elected. Everybody in Utah knows the distinguished position that Smoot has in the Senate and as a national figure. Local pride in Smoot's position will be enough to give him a considerable margin over the normal Republican vote.

Colorado is another of those states which went strongly for Wilson in 1916, and which the Democrats claim this year. But the best judgment is that Colorado this year will go for Harding. The Senatorship, however, has not yet fully cleared up from the chaos caused by the September primaries and is made very complex by the existence of a regular Republican candidate, and a threat of an independent Republican candidate, a regular Democratic candidate and an independent Democrat candidate, and a Non-Partisan League candidate. Out of this chaos it is hard to predict what will come.

Corn State Republican

Kansas and Nebraska will both go Republican heavily. As to Oklahoma the best judgment is that the state is safe for Cox. Missouri as the election draws close, seems to tend more and more in the direction of Republican victory.

Iowa of course will go heavily Republican. As to the Iowa senatorship, a week ago I said Cummins would run a hundred thousand behind Harding. Today I would not say that. Cummins' friends have become aware of his danger and are stirring up the state to be loyal to his fine character and the prestige he has given Iowa in the senate.

Cummins will suffer from the opposition of the Iowa farmers in the recent railroad bill he helped to make, but he will win readily.

Those are the details. The net of it all is this: Of all the states west of the Mississippi river Cox will carry, without any doubt of course, the three distinctively southern states, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. The one state which may be called semi-southern, so to speak, Oklahoma, has a little more than an even chance of carrying.

Other than this in all this western territory Cox will, probably not get more than seventeen or at the outside, twenty-three electoral votes out of a total of 126.

In all this, there is one clear fact the Republican strength is overwhelming on the presidential ticket alone. On the aggregate of the local senatorial issues the distribution of votes between Republicans and Democrats does not vary greatly from normal.

It is almost wholly a case of irritation against the Democratic administration at Washington—a case of firing the hired man.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Five girl students from the University of Prague, winners of two-year scholarships offered to Czechoslovakia by Vassar College, recently arrived in the United States to start their studies this fall opening in Vassar College. All of the girls expect to return to Czechoslovakia to engage in some kind of social work for the benefit of the young Republic. One is to study economics, another to become a food expert, another a psychoanalyst, one to take up playground work, and another child welfare. These girls attended the school for Social Service which was directed by the American Y. W. C. A. in Prague last summer and the Y. W. C. A. helped in selecting them for the Scholarships.

Superintendent R. E. Correll, of the Jeffersonville Schools, and Mrs. Correll duplicated the delightful "weiner roast" of Thursday evening with another Friday evening. This time one hundred pupils from the fourth to the eighth grades inclusive and their teachers were the guests.

A wonderful October day, bringing out smart autumn toilettes and the charming hospitality for which the hostess is distinguished, were contributing features to a delightful progressive bridge entertained by Mrs. Roy Brown Friday afternoon.

Garden flowers in vivid fall colors, graced the rooms in which six tables were at play. Mrs. Frank C. Parrett won the trophy for high score, a silver spoon in Corinthian pattern.

A very elaborate collection of two courses completed the afternoon's pleasure. Decorating each small table were bud vases holding pink rosebuds and carnations and pink roses as nut cups added a pretty touch.

Mrs. Eliza Weddell and Miss Dorothy Dick assisted in entertaining.

London's social season is closing and it is unanimously agreed that it has been a failure. The opinion is generally expressed that the old era of magnificent entertaining during the "town season" has gone forever. Certainly 1920 has proved a disappointment to those who make a fetish of the social round.

No crowds collected in Hyde Park to see the reigning society beauty center down Rotten Row. There was no reigning beauty to see. Big town mansions which normally would have been gay with window boxes, awnings and red carpets to denote the festivities going on within have remained untenanted with a dismal notice "To be let furnished" giving proof of the "season's" lost lure.

Covent Garden Opera, usually a social function, was merely a social fizzle this year.

Florists, restaurant proprietors, tailors, dressmakers and others who are financially interested in the London season ruefully confess that there has been nothing doing. The slump has also been felt in the theatreland.

This state of affairs is attributed mainly to high prices. Society has been content to mingle with the throng. Slogans have changed. From a custom which amounted to "Stand aloft and make a splash" it has now become "Lie low and save the cash."

Never was there less class distinction than today. Even the magnificence of the court of King George shows a decline. What court receptions there have been this year have embraced both plebeians and patricians, and there was none of the old time gift and glamour.

The select circle of profiteers who awaited with open arms the advent of the "rich Americans" did much toward keeping London empty. Fine West End mansions which were to be let at an exorbitant rental have remained unoccupied because the rich Americans didn't turn up—or if they did, friendly members of the New Poor were quick to put them wise on the matter of London values.

The Elmwood Ladies Aid Society held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. E. Bush on Oakland Avenue, Thursday afternoon, with thirty-five members present.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Roy Snidley, Mrs. Carl Clutter, Mrs. Wilbur Campbell and Mrs. Earl Farmer. Following the devotional and business session. An excellent musical program was rendered by Mrs. Walter McClain, Mrs. Doan Powless and Miss Ruth Henry. A straw vote added interest at the close of the meeting which resulted—Harding 21, Cox 7. Delicious refreshments were served.

Raymond Marshall was pleasantly reminded of his seventeenth birthday, when several of his friends gathered at his home on the evening of October thirteenth.

Refreshments were served after a merry round of games were played. Mrs. Marshall was assisted by Mrs. John Merritt.

Those present were: Ruth Wright, Affie Chaney, Florence Hodson, Ella May Stanforth, Elizabeth Hodson, Stella Stanforth, Roena Marshall, Jerome Clutter, Nellie Hidy, Evelyn Marshall, Icy Marshall, Letha Marshall, Lois Marshall, Edith Lemons, Ella Nebergall, William Sherrow, Graydon Marshall, Ervin Hoskins, John Stanforth, Glen Hoskins, Bruce Hidy, Edward Merritt, Victor Marshall, Ray Wright, Moze Wilson, Oscar Wilson, Willard Williams, Paul Cinter, Raymond Marshall, Dennis Marshall, Fred Scarberry, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt.

Rev. Pfaltzgraf, who has assumed the pastorate of the Methodist Church at Jeffersonville with his wife and two daughters were honor guests at a reception given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the church, Friday evening.

Over a hundred member called between the hours of seven to ten, to extend greetings of welcome to the new minister, and his family.

Cosmos and fall flowers were artistically arranged in decorating the church, and the women, with Mrs. Al Booco as chairman served tempting refreshments.

SQUIRREL SEASON IS NEARING END

With October 20th only a few days away but three days of the squirrel season yet remain.

Since September 15th, when the season opened hundreds of squirrels have been bugged in this county and reports from all sections were that they appeared more plentiful this year than for many seasons but the scores of hunters who have infested the woods have diminished their numbers.

Hunting licenses issued now are good until the end of the year when another must be issued at the Clerk's office at the court house.

SUES TO OBTAIN AGENT'S COMMISSION

Alleging that the defendants failed to pay him the full commission for a real estate transaction Henry M. Eckert has filed suit in common pleas court asking for $480 from J. M. and Clara A. Arnold, of Perry township.

Plaintiff says that in 1919 he entered into an agreement with defendants for the sale of certain real estate defendants agreeing to accept $25,000 for the farm and allow plaintiff all above that amount he could obtain. Plaintiff says he sold farm to Jas. M. Jones for $26,000 and that defendants paid him $520 but refused to pay the remaining $480 of the $1,000 originally due him. Hidy and Sanderson for plaintiff.

SEND NOTICES

All free notices, such as lodges, church, club, or other similar notice, must be mailed to The Herald office or brought in person and not telephoned.

This rule is due to likelihood of errors when telephoned, and to the fact that telephoning free notices greatly interferes with the press of business in a very busy office.

GOOD ROUTES FOR SUNDAY MOTOR TRIPS

Automobile Club Announces Road Conditions At Week-end.

Dependable Information Is Great Assistance to Vehicle Drivers.

The Fayette County Automobile Club announced Saturday morning road conditions for automobile tours to several points of interest frequently visited by Fayette county motorists.

Roads marked out by the club are authentic and will be of value to those contemplating a Sunday motoring trip to "the hills" or other places designated.

The club's report follows:

To Delaware
Go to London, take new state pike to West Jefferson. Turn east on National pike through town and cross river. Take first left hand road through Plain City. This route is good nearly all the way.

To Jackson
Go to Chillicothe via Clarksburg. On to Richmond. To Jackson mileage 59.2. Road fair to good all the way.

To Waverly and Portsmouth
To Chillicothe, to Waverly and Portsmouth; on State pike which is good except detour between Piketon and Lucasville. This detour is marked and in good shape.

The new section of brick road improvement this side of Frankfort and the new concrete bridge at the foot of Bray's Hill have been completed and the road is now open all the way to Chillicothe.

To Dayton
There is a detour between Xenia and Dayton at present.

To Serpent Mound
To Hillsboro via Greenfield and Bridges or Leesburg via Staunton and Buena Vista. (Note: take Leesburg pike at Hare's corners to where road is closed, then to left to Buena Vista. At Hillsboro go southeast through Marshall. The Great Serpent is 1150 feet long and one of two in the world, the other being in Asia. The land is in a public park now owned by Peabody Institute of Boston.)

It is also noted that the stretch of bad highway just outside the east corporation limits of Wilmington has been refinished and placed in good condition for traveling, except a very short strip. Many people have previously avoided the road through Wilmington because of the deplorable condition of the one mile of highway on the east.

U. S. GETS SHARE OF AFRICAN TRADE

South Africa imports ordinarily about $12,000,000 worth of hardware per year according to a report on the subject prepared by American trade commissioners Lundquist and Williams and just published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce.

More than $2,000,000 worth of this business now comes to the United States. The territory involved includes British South Africa and the neighboring colony of Portuguese East Africa.

Since 1914 the United States has made substantial progress in supplying hardware to this territory, and the Bureau's investigators are of the opinion that, with proper care and attention to special requirements, much of the present trade can be retained and new and profitable lines developed.

DEMONSTRATE FIRST AID WORK

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Sept. 22—Demonstrations in accident prevention and first aid work are featured in the program of the ninth annual meeting of the National Safety Council to be held at Milwaukee, September 27 to October 1, which is announced in the American Red Cross bulletin. First aid work will be demonstrated by the Red Cross Bureau of First Aid and the Metal and Mining sections of the National Safety Council.

Plans for a demonstration showing the occurrence of an accident and rendering first aid, then an investigation to fix the responsibility, have been made by J. R. Mulligan, of the Bethlehem Steel Company, of the Bethlehem Steel Company, Vidvale Steel and Ordnance Company, Cambria Steel Company, and the Red Cross Bureau of First Aid. A new carbon monoxide detector also will be demonstrated as to its accident prevention and first aid value.

A questionnaire issued by the Council, the Bureau of Mines and the Red Cross to ascertain the experience of industrial concerns with first aid endeavors, has been sent out. The answers are expected to form the basis of an effort by the council to standardize various affiliated organizations in first aid work.

MAKE PROTEST OVER ASSESSMENT OF INCOME TAX

(By Associated Press)

Buenos Aires. — Protest against the assessment of the United States income and excess profits tax upon American citizens and business firms residing and operating abroad is voiced in a resolution adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Argentina and sent to the government at Washington. Amendment to the law is asked on the ground that it is proving an obstacle to the development and extension of United States foreign commerce.

Collection of the tax not only increases the heavy expenses of Americans residing abroad, but constitutes a serious handicap to them in trade competition, the resolution states, since no such tax is collected from the nationals of other countries. It is further pointed out that American citizens and business houses must pay heavy taxes levied by the country in which they are located and are thus taxed twice without representation either in the government of that country or their own.

Already the assessment of the excess profits and income tax has caused many American interests operating abroad to change their identity by organizing as concerns of the countries where they conduct business it is asserted, "thus causing a serious loss to the prestige of American commerce in foreign markets."

One diseased cow will contaminate the supply of milk from a whole herd if nothing is done to counteract the germ.

If just one of our producers had just one cow giving diseased milk our whole supply for the city would be contaminated IF —get this—IF WE DID NOT PASTEURIZE ALL OUR MILK.

Our milk is all put together, all goes through the same process of perfect pasteurization, the only recognized form of absolutely destroying bacteria. Think about it. Can you, in justice to yourself and family, afford to use any other?

HOME HYGIENE ENROLLMENT IS MORE THAN 250

Classes Have Been Organized in Village High Schools With Large Enrollment.

Total of Fifteen Classes Have Been Arranged By Nurse Miss Felkner.

Approximately 250 women and girls of Fayette county are enrolled in the Home Hygiene classes being conducted through the Fayette Red Cross chapter with Miss Helen Felkner, trained nurse, as instructor.

Additional classes have been organized in the several municipalities of the county and this has caused the enrollment to mount in figures beyond the greatest hope of the Red Cross.

A girls class has been formed in Jeffersonville high school with an enrollment of 17 and the same number of women are enrolled in the Women's Class. Miss Felkner visits these classes on Wednesday.

At Bloomington on Tuesday Miss Felkner instructs a class of 16 girls in Bloomington high school and a class of 23 women.

Good Hope high school girls have organized and instruction will be given in one of the private homes by Miss Felkner on Fridays.

One of the new classes organized in this city is made up of colored women and girls and 23 attend each Tuesday evening.

FINDS FATHER AFTER 30 YEARS

Chief McCall and Wife Will Join Long Missing Relative in California.

Of interest to local readers is an article appearing in this week's issue of the Leesburg Citizen which tells of Mrs. Harry McCall finding her father after she had believed him dead for thirty years.

Mrs. Harry McCall is the wife of "Chief" or "Mose" McCall, first baseman of the Washington Athletics and well known all over Fayette county. The article follows:

To find one's father after believing him to be dead for thirty years was the unusual and pathetic experience of Mrs. Harry McCall, who with her husband, "Mose" well known ball player reside in the Caretown neighborhood. Mrs. McCall left Tuesday for Los Angeles, California to join her father, Mr. J. C. Thomas, who is a prominent real estate dealer of that city. After a sale of farm chattels which occurs the 26th of this month, Mr. McCall will also go to California and associate himself with his father-in-law in his business.

When Mrs. McCall was four years of age, Mrs. Thomas separated from her husband, leaving the daughter under the impression all through her girlhood that her father was dead. Last winter Mrs. McCall learned that he was living during a visit with her sister in the Bermuda Islands. A correspondence was then begun which culminated in the daughter and son deciding to go to California.

TO FIGHT IT OUT ON LEAGUE

Gov. Cox Replies to the Thirty One—Speaks in Marion.

(By Associated Press)

Detroit, Michigan, October 15.—Governor Cox announced here tonight that his campaign would be fought squarely upon the league of nations issue as drawn by Senator Harding in the latter's Des Moines, Iowa, speech, in which the Senator said that he favored "staying out."

The Governor's announcement was made in a statement replying to that issued today by thirty-one prominent Republicans headed by Elihu Root, Herbert Hoover, Henry W. Taft and others, declaring their support of Senator Harding.

That he did not see how the thirty-one signers could support Mr. Harding consistently was asserted by Governor Cox.

A feature today was a speech at Marion, the home of Senator Harding. Several thousand persons there and at other Ohio points cheered and applauded the Governor. At Marion, however, the Governor made no personal reference to Senator Harding.

HARDING ON WAY TO ST. LOUIS

(By Associated Press)

Indianapolis, October 16.—After taking a short rest from the cares of his campaign Senator Harding left here this morning for St. Louis where he will make the final address of his swing around the circle of the border states in the St. Louis auditorium tonight.

McCLAIN PLAYING WASHINGTON HIGH

Perfect Weather and Large Crowd As Two Rival Elevens Take The Field Saturday Afternoon.

Greenfield High's football team, almost two squads strong, arrived in this city shortly after noon Saturday for the game with Washington High at East End Field at 2:15.

Perfect weather prevailed at game time although the players complained that it was just a little too warm for good football.

The Washington team appeared on the field a few minutes after two o'clock in their new outfits and ran a few snappy signals. The McClain eleven, at the opposite end of the field, appeared much heavier than the Blue and White representatives.

Many Greenfield rooters, who accompanied the McClain team, helped swell the large crowd that was massed along the side lines at game time.

EXPECT OVER 200 ON JACKSON TRIP

It is expected that the majority of those going from this county will go by the special train over the D. T. & L. which reaches this city about 7:35 a. m., and returning leaves Jackson at 5:00 p. m.

Quite a number expect to motor through if there is sufficient rain to lay the dust and make motoring over thronged roads more pleasant.

VETERAN PRINTER

DIES FRIDAY AFTER

LONG SUFFERING

An affliction with which he had suffered for three years and which, during most of that time, made him a helpless invalid, caused the death, shortly after three o'clock Friday afternoon, of George R. Carey, veteran printer past sixty years of age, at his home on Willard street.

George Carey was a printer and type setter of the old school and since early manhood, worked at the one trade, mastering the setting of type by hand and becoming an expert at his trade.

He came to this city in 1893 from Smith, N. Y., and worked in every printing office in the city at various times. For many years he was employed on the Ohio State Register and then on The Herald until the time of his retirement two and a half years ago.

Possessing a genial and kindly disposition towards all those with whom he came in contact, his circle of friends in this city was large.

His wife alone survives him.

Funeral services were held at the home Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Rev. Z. E. Ervin, officiating. Interment followed in the Washington cemetery.

FAYETTE COLONY IN LOS ANGELES STILL GROWING

W. R. Dalbey Tells About Many Former Fayette Countians Now Prospering in West.

All Greatly Pleased With Delightful Climate And The Great West.

Los Angeles, Cal., October 9.

There is quite a colony of former Washington people in this far away western city, and during a three-weeks' stay here we have had the pleasure of meeting quite a number of them.

The is a belief in Los Angeles that after a new-comer has spent one year here the chances are ten to one that he will make this his permanent home, and facts seem to make the claim good.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Murray for many years identified with Washington C. H. business and social affairs, are happy in their beautiful home overlooking Echo Park with its lake and palms and California flowers. As we sat beneath the delicate foliage of a large pepper tree with Mr. Murray and Mr. Phil Ortman, who, until he took up his residence with his family in Los Angeles, several years ago, was an automobile magnate "at home," we talked over old times in Fayette County as we drank in the beauties of a real California landscape. The Ortman home, a delightful spot, adjoins the Murray place. In Mr. Murray's back yard we picked ripe black berries, ripe figs and two or three other fruits that we have forgotten the names of, for they have oodles of fruits out here that the average Fayette Countian never tasted, saw or heard of.

And the two delightful automobile rides that we took with Mr. and Mrs. Ortman through the garden spots of Los Angeles, and over to Pasadena, the city we had always heard about, but never expected to see, where the wonderful Busch floral gardens are the admiration of the world tourists! It is said of these gardens, which are maintained by Mrs. Busch at a cost of $500 per month, the gate receipts going to the Pasadena hospital, that they are excelled in beauty by no other gardens in the world.

Then there are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Baker, who are known to most Washington C. H. people from their long residence there. Their home is on Oxford street. It was built under the personal supervision of Mr. Baker from plans worked out by Mrs. Baker, and if there is anything lacking to make it the ideal California modern home in a select neighborhood, the writer failed to observe it. And after showing us the ripe figs and other fruits in the garden, Mr. Baker plucked a ripe lemon from a tree and presented it with his compliments.

In an ideal locality is the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Marchant and Mrs. Hazzard. Mr. Marchant has been identified with the automobile interests here until recently, but now he is connected with one of the prominent business firms of the city. Former Senator T. W. Marchant and wife have their home at Formosa Beech, but when in Los Angeles their home is with their son.

Mr. U. S. House, a former Fayette county boy, has made a success in real estate investments out here.

Mr. Fullerton Wilson, who years ago lived on his farm on the Chillicothe pike south of Washington C. H. is interested in the orange industry and lives in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Shep Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Fay Murray and children are residents of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hughey, former Washingtonians, and their baby daughter, Rebecca, have lived here for some time.

Mr. Robert T. McElwain and daughter, Miss Eleanor formerly of Good Hope, but for many years of Boston, have recently located in Los Angeles, where Mr. Frank McElwain, son of R. T. McElwain resides with his wife and daughter. Mr. Veal is in the post-office on western avenue.

Over in Pasadena, George Stinson, in former years an influential business man of Washington C. H., is a leading citizen.

Dr. and Mrs. Mike Creamer, well known in Washington years ago, are prospering in their new home here, and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Shank formerly in the telephone office in Washington, make this city their home.

Carey McElwain, son of the late John McElwain, of Good Hope, who left there to "rough it" in the far west 20 years ago is a resident here. He spends some time in the desert.

Mr. Yankee and daughter, Miss Mizpah, formerly of Washington C. H., have lived here for many years. Mrs.

Duck Rowe Printz having come to California years ago from Washington C. H. lives at Simi with her three daughters, where all are prospering.

Down at San Diego, Cal., one of the successful business men is Mr. Martin G. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. White, of Washington C. H. Mr. White is a product of the Washington schools. His big office in the Spreckles building has a number of employees and is a busy place.

Frank Worrel, brother of John Worrel, of Washington C. H. is one of Los Angeles' leading opticians.

In a letter written to the Daily Herald a few days ago an error was made in the casualties by automobile in Los Angeles. It should have read three thousand and automobile accidents have occurred there since January 1st instead of "three thousand deaths."

While in Salt Lake City, Utah, we spent some time with our old friend Mr. R. W. Spangler formerly of Washington C. H. Mr. and Mrs. Spangler and son have for many years resided in Salt Lake, when Mr. Spangler is owner and editor of the "New West" magazine. Mr. Spangler has made good in the west and members among his friends the high-up in official and business affairs of the state and city. He is a great booster for the beautiful city of Salt Lake, and well he might be for that city is wonderfully attractive. Mr. Spangler is a brother of Mrs. Carrie Willis of Washington C. H.

RED CROSS AIMS ARE OUTLINED

The Fourth Red Cross Roll Call is drawing near. It is not a drive. It is not a campaign. It is not an effort to raise any specific sum.

The $1.00 ones of 10,000,000 people for 1921 are payable and this Roll Call is merely the organized activity of collection.

The American Red Cross, by its Congressional Charter, is officially designated for the following purposes: "To furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded in time of war, in accordance with the treaty of Geneva. "To act in matters of volunteer relief and as a medium of communication between the American people and their Army and Navy

"To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great national calamities and to devise and carry on measures preventing the same."—Act of Congress, January 5, 1905.

Answered the Red Cross Roll Call, November 11th, Armistice Day, to November 25th—Thanksgiving.

A Word of Help to Women of Middle Age From Mrs. Raney.

Morse, Okla.—"When I was 45 years old Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carried me through the critical period of the change of life in safety. I am over 60 and have raised a family of eight children and am in fine health. My daughter and daughters-in-law recommend your Vegetable Compound and I still take it occasionally myself. You are at liberty to use my name if you wish."—Mrs. ALICE RANEY, Morse, Oklahoma.

This good old-fashioned root and herb remedy may be relied upon to overcome the distressing symptoms which accompany it and women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. ## OHIO GRAIN GROWERS COMPETE FOR $10,000

Buckeye grain and hay growers are planning exhibits of these products at the International Grain and Hay Show, to be held at Chicago, November 27 to December 4. Cash prizes amounting to $10,000 will be distributed. Premiums will be offered for single and 10-ear samples each of white and yellow corn; for exhibits of wheat, oats, barley, rye, soy beans, cow peas and field peas, consisting of one peck each, and for samples of seed and hay including red, alamo and sweet clover; alfalfa and timothy.

IN THE NIGHT

DEAR EDITOR:

Sleep is not for us. Still do the iron monsters shriek and scream. Perhaps the whistler's convention is in session here this week. Perhaps those tired engineers fall asleep nightly clutching the whistle cord, and that the resulting strident blasts constitute a lullaby for their weary souls. Say—for performance those whistlers make an efficiency expert look like a butter fingered duf. Although you cannot sleep, you've got to hand it to them—with a stuffed club. Let them beware.

Seriously something should be done about this unnecessary noise on the part of the railroads. We do not ask that they cease altogether. A certain amount of that sort of thing is necessary, but it is not necessary to keep up a continued nerve shattering blast for minutes and hours at a stretch. We have observed in day time trains coming whizzing into town like comets, passing crossing after crossing with no warning whatever. A little more protection by day and less noise by night would be in order, and would, we are sure, be gratefully accepted by this long suffering public.

Yours Once More
 L. N. SOMNIA

SEASON EXTENDED TEAMS IN ACTION

Owing to the unusually fine October weather the baseball season is extending far in the month and the baseball teams of Fayette county are still scheduling games.

This city divides its baseball popularity this Sunday with the Jeffersonville team. While the Athletics are meeting Sabina in the first of a three game series at Sunnyside park, the Jeffersonville Tigers will be playing Derby A. C. at Derby, and scores of fans from Jefferson township will follow their diamond representatives into Pickaway county for the second game of a scheduled three part series.

Milledgeville is attempting to schedule its regular two games for the week end and has secured Sedalia at Milledgeville for Saturday afternoon. The Sunday game has not been assured. Jones and Keller will form the Milledgeville battery.

BRITISH RULE IS AGAIN EXTENDED IN THE HOLY LAND

(By Associated Press)

JERUSALEM—British administration has been extended to a considerable part of trans-Jordan territory, of which Es Salt, a town of about 12,000 inhabitants, situated some 20 miles east of the Dead Sea, is the chief center.

Sir Herbert Samuel, British High Commissioner for Palestine, has just returned from a journey to the new territory, where 600 representative Beduin sheiks and notables received with enthusiasm the High Commissioner's assurance that "Great Britain did not propose to bring their country within the present system of administration of Palestine, but would establish a separate administration that would assist the people to govern themselves."

Sir Herbert motored through Jericho to Allenby bridge on the Jordan where he was met by Majid Pasha, ex-general of the Sherifian army, and by the son of Sheikh Sultan, the most influential chieftain of the territory. The Turkish military road through the Shaib valley proved almost impassable even for cavalry, and riding along the precipices was extremely dangerous at times owing to landslides but the party, headed by 200 Beduin horsemen, reached Es Salt without mishap.

LANDRU JOINS THE DRY WITS

(By Associated Press)

Paris, (By Mail)—Henri Landru, who is shortly to be placed on trial on charges growing out of the disappearance of 11 women to whom he had promised marriage and who has acquired quite a reputation as a dry wit since his incarceration 18 months ago, showed deep interest in the health of the Mayor of Cork, Terence MacSwiney, on a hunger strike in a British prison.

Every morning he inquired of the jailer whether MacSwiney were still alive. For a few days Landru showed a strong disinclination to partake of the usual prison fare.

"Are you trying to go one MacSwiney stunt, starve your self?" the jailer inquired.

"The innocent never commit suicide," responded Landru sententiously.
